Retirement communities and older adult living options are popping up all around the Washington DC metro area and you may be wondering:

What are these places exactly?

What do they offer me as a senior?

Where do I even begin?

During our 90-minute panel discussion, you will learn the facts about local senior living options from some of the most knowledgeable and experienced professionals in our local senior living industry.

As the region's only Certified Senior Housing Professionals®, our team understands the unique needs of longtime homeowners and takes the guesswork out of the home buying, selling, and moving process.

We handle every detail along the way, creating a more enjoyable and empowering journey for you!

We believe when homeowners are presented with the right tools or guidance, the downsizing process can be stressfree. You'll always feel right at home with our personalized care

and real estate expertise.
